INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

---

Google Brain, Mountain View, CA

Oct 2019 – May 2023

- Selected projects:

Surrogate for Long-Term Consumer Experience in Recommender Systems

- Developed a framework to identify sequential and temporal consumer behavior patterns that are predictive of long-term consumer experience in recommender systems, which is a sparse, noisy and long-horizon signal that is hard to optimize directly. Online large-scale field experiments on an RL-based recommendation system demonstrated significant improvements in key business metrics including consumer growth and retention.
- Paper accepted to KDD 2022. Quote from a Vice President at Google: “This is an excellent paper. I think the entire Core Experiences team (900+ employees) would benefit from reading it, and I would like to send it to everyone in the Core Experiences team.”

Understanding and Modeling Consumer Intent for Long-Term Optimization

- Developed a framework for extracting consumer intents (e.g. exploration or variety-seeking intent) on the personalized platforms, and a scalable personalized diversification framework based on the predicted intents for long-term optimization.
- Invited talk at Recsys 2022. Work deployed globally with significant movement in consumer retention.

Uber Technologies Inc., San Francisco, CA

Sept 2016 - Sept 2019

- Tech lead on Uber Eats home feed ranking and recommendation; Founding member of Uber Eats Data Science team which became a team of 80+ during my time there. Selected projects:

Multi-Objective Recommendation for a Three-Sided Marketplace

- Developed a personalized multi-objective optimization framework for Uber Eats restaurant recommendation. Online A/B experiments showed significant increases in consumer retention, basket value and orders for global markets, which translate to $xx million weekly gain in revenue. My work was deployed globally as the recommender system for Uber Eats’ homepage.

- Patented the work as first author.
- Media Coverage: First-authored tech blog was selected as top 10 machine learning articles of the month (0.7%) by an independent publisher. Won “Most Impressive Business Impact” award by Uber.

Holistic Optimization with Heterogeneous & Hierarchical Contents

- Proposed and developed HRank, a holistic recommendation framework for personalized optimal homepage layout, combining machine learning and probabilistic modeling for consumers’ browsing behavior on heterogeneous and hierarchical contents.
- HRank was deployed globally, which brought a significant increase in consumer conversion rate, amounting to $xx million weekly gain in revenue.
- My work was featured in Uber’s company-wide Machine Learning Orientation video which was circulated among 500+ ML engineers and applied scientists.

Microsoft Research, Redmond, WA
